Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: Applicant's arguments are not persuasive. Applicant argues, regarding claim 1, that McKenna "does not describe, teach, or suggest that one location is commanding media to be sent from the STB 102a to 102b, or vice versa". That is, Applicant argues that McKenna does not teach:

"transferring the media from a first media processing device at a first geographic location that is remotely located from the home location to at least a second media processing device at a second geographic location that is also remotely located from the home location according to said controlling communication from said television in the home location".

However, McKenna clearly meets the above claim language, for example, in cited col. 5 lines 18 - 29, col. 6 lines 20 - 30, col. 15 line 65 - col. 16 line 23, and Fig. 1.

The "home location" of claim 1 would correspond to items 102, 104, 106 and 108, appearing on the left side of Fig. 1; that is, a user's settop box, tv, and remote controls.

The "first media processing device at a first geographic location that is remotely located from the home location", could, in at least one embodiment, be represented by either of the "Broadcast Center's 110.

The "at least a second media processing device at a second geographic location that is remotely located from the home location", could, in at least one embodiment, be represented by the TV 104 and STB 102 on the left hand side of Fig.1.

The controlling communications from the home location would thus result in media being transmitted 'from' both Broadcast Centers 110, ultimately 'to' STB 102/TV 104 on the right side of Fig. 1.

The claim language does not prohibit the "home location" from being the originator of the claimed media.

Applicant's arguments thus are not persuasive.

Applicant also aruges that the claimed "third home" of claim 27 is supported by the language "[t]ransfer of media from the first location to one or more other locations....", where the "one or more other locations" is emphasized. However, in claim 27, the "third home" is recited as where the media is "from", not where the media is "to". The "one or more other locations" emphasized by Applicant in the above location is in regard to where the media is "to". Applicant's arugment thus is not persuasive.
